FEVER SITUATION IS AS BAD AS EVER.

Ten New Cases Develop at Jackson—A Light Frost Fell at Oxford on Thursday Night.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 15.—The yellow fever situation is practically unchanged so far as the number of new cases is concerned. The thermometer, however, is ranging in the fifties and there are strong hopes that the spread of the infection will be checked by the cool weather even if there is no frost. Jackson reports 10 new cases, but no death.

Taylor, 1 new case.
Poplarville, 12 new cases since Oct.
11.
Madison, 6 new cases.
Waveland, 3 cases.
Hattiesburg, 5 new cases and 1 death.
Natchez, 4 new, and one suspicious case.
Harrison, 3 new cases and 3 critically ill.
Oxford, 1 new case. A light frost fell there Thursday night.

Only One Case at New Orleans.
New Orleans, Oct. 15.—The only report received by the state board of health was from New Orleans, 1 case and no deaths.

Spreading at Franklin.
Washington, Oct. 15.—The marine hospital service received a dispatch from Franklin, La., announcing 13 new cases and one death there.

May Strike at Lincoln.
Lincoln, Ill., Oct. 15.—Captain David H. Harris, the coal mine operator who has such large interests in the striking Pana and Varden districts, in speaking of the serious and complicated troubles still existing in the district at such terrible cost and annoyance to both sides, said that the 500 miners at work half time in the Lincoln and Citizens' shafts were in an ugly mood and liable to strike at any time. They are dissatisfied because they are only paid 42½ cents per ton for screened coal, and are paying 10 per cent of their earnings into the union. Captain Harris said he had about 200 men at work in his Pana mines and predicts that they will stand their ground well.

Typographical Union.
Syracuse, Oct. 15.—The International Typographical union has voted $2000 to aid the printers' strike on the Buffalo Express. By a vigorous resolution, introduced by Delegate Black of Detroit, the union put itself on record against antitrust legislation in congress.
The convention discussed the contract made by its shorter work day committee with the Typothetae. The contract was unanimously ratified.
Speeches were made which showed that the action was considered by the printers a great victory for organized labor.

Suit Against the Postal.
Galveston, Oct. 15.—M. Coote, a lineman at one time in the employ of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company, claims damages against the company for $40,000 for permanent and serious injuries alleged to have been occasioned through no fault of the plaintiff, and entered suit in the civil district court for that amount.

Gun Destroyed.
Caldwell, Tex., Oct. 15.—The winning establishment of Harmon Harnes at Dime Box, Lee county, was consumed by fire. Loss about $3000, with no insurance. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Preparing for Muster Out.
San Francisco, Oct. 15.—The Seventh California volunteer regiment has broken up and started for Los Angeles where, after furloughs of 30 days, the men will be mustered out. Most of the members of the Seventh are southern Californians.

Passed the Wheeling.
Seattle, Wash., Oct. 15.—The steamer Cottage City from Alaska reports passing the gunboat Wheeling from St.
Michaels with Captain Pratt's government survey party aboard. The Wheel-bidding all boxing matches.

Noted Abolitionist Dead.
New York, Oct. 15.—Calvin Fairbanks, the abolitionist, is dead at his home in for violation of the slave law.

Old People Gone to Law.
Muncie, Ind., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Juliet

Dr. Lincoln Dead.
Washington, Oct. 15.—Dr. N. S. Lincoln, aged 70 years, one of the oldest and best known physicians of this city, is dead. He was one of the attending physicians upon President Garfield.

Spain's Molest Claim.
Paris, Oct. 15.—Spain has put in a bill of $800,000,000 damages against the United States. That is her estimate of what it cost her to be whipped in the war.

Granted a New Trial.
Kansas City, Oct. 15.—Dr. Jefferson under 16-year sentence for the murder of Fred Jackson, a laundryman, has been granted a new trial by the state supreme court.

ODDITIES IN WILLS.

SOME PECULIAR BEQUESTS AND CURI-OUS CONDITIONS.

A Patriotic American's Desire to Be Heard After Death—Wills Which Proved That in the Cases of Their Makers Marriage Was a Failure.

The admiration of our American consuls for their country is a prominent characteristic of their daily life, and some years ago a Mr. Sanborn desired that in death as in life his body should proclaim the glory of the republic. He left $1,000 to the late Professor Agassiz, in return for which he was, by an extremely scientific process set forth in the will to tan his (Sanborn's) skin into leather and from it have a drum made. Two of the most suitable bones of his body were to be made into drumsticks, and with these a Mr. Warren Simpson—to whom Sanborn left the remainder of his property—was "on every 11th of June to repair to the foot of Bunker hill and at sunrise beat on the drum, the parchment of which had been made out of the testator's skin, the spirit stirring strains of 'Yankee Doo-die.'"

A somewhat similar bequest was made by a German in 1887. He died in Pittsburg and by his will directed that his body should be cremated and the ashes forwarded to the German consul at New York, who was to deliver them to the captain of the steamship Elbe.
When in midocean, the captain was to request a passenger to dress himself in nautical costume, and, ascending with the funeral urn to the topmast, to scatter the ashes to the four winds of heaven. These strange directions were faithfully carried out.

Quite as peculiar were the directions for the funeral of a Mr. John Underwood. He willed that he was to be buried in a green coffin with a copy of Horace under his head and of Milton under his feet, a Greek testament in his right hand and a small Horace in his left. Six friends, who were not to wear mourning, were to follow him to the grave and there to sing a verse of the twentieth ode of the second book of Horace. After this they were to "take a cheerful glass and think no more of John Underwood."

Wills may also be admitted as evidence of the mixed blessings of the matrimonial state. A nobleman wrote, "I give and bequeath to the worst of women, whom I unfortunately married, 45 brass halfpence, which will buy her a pullet for supper."

A Glasgow doctor, dying some ten years ago, left the whole of his estate to his two sisters, and then came this extraordinary clause: "To my wife, as a recompense for deserting me and leaving me in peace, I expect the said sister Elizabeth to make her a gift of 10 shillings sterling, to buy her a pocket handkerchief to wipe in after my decease."

A Mr. Sydney Dickenson bequeathed to his wife the sum of £60,000, "on condition that she undertakes to pass two hours a day at my graveside, for the ten years following my decease, in company with her sister, whom I have reason to know she loathes worse than she does me."

Another husband stated that he would leave his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his newspaper in peace, but as she always commenced playing and singing when he started to read he left her only £1,000. Such instances could be multiplied indefinitely, but one other is worthy of note.

A husband left his wife £12,000, to be increased to £24,000 provided that she was a widow's cap after his death. She accepted the larger amount, wore the cap for six months, and then put it off.
A lawsuit followed, but the judge held that the testator should have inserted the word "always" and gave judgment in favor of the widow, who the day after re-entered the state of matrimony.
Thus the husband's little plan for preventing his widow marrying again failed.

But the most curious will which the writer has ever come across is that of M. Zalesky, a Polish landlord, who died in 1889, leaving property valued at 100,000 rubles. His will was included in an envelope bearing the words, "To Be Opened After My Death." Inside this was another envelope, "To Be Opened Six Weeks After My Death." When this time had passed, the second envelope was opened and a third uncovered, "To Be Opened One Year After My Death."

At the end of the year a fourth envelope was discovered, to be opened two years after the testator's death, and so the game went on until 1894, when the actual will was discovered and read.
It was quite as eccentric in its dispositions as the directions attached to its opening. The testator bequeathed half his fortune to such of his heirs as had the largest number of children. The rest of the property was to be placed in a bank and a hundred years after his death to be divided, with the accumulated interest, among the will maker's descendants. Thus by 1894, at 5 per cent compound interest, the 50,000 rubles will have swelled into 6,000,000 rubles. But what will this be among so many descendants?—Household Words.

Hardly.
Miss D.—Angelina, why don't you marry Lieutenant Y?

Miss A.—First, because he has no brains—and he can't ride, dance or play tennis. What could we do with him?

"But he swims beautifully."

"Oh, yes; but one can't keep one's husband in an aquarium, you know."

The Poor Wife.
"John Henry, it isn't any good, I know, that keeps you down town so late, when you ought to be at home with me and the children." (Shrugging his shoulders.) "Honi soit qui mal y pense," my dear."
"That's right! Swear at your wife in Latin."—Chicago Tribune.

IT is the little things that make an impression, the fact you step on, the freckled nose, or a blotch or pimple on the cheek. Not everyone can be beautiful, but the palest face is made attractive by a clear, pure skin.

J. J. Vandiver of Sleep Hollow, was here yesterday, having just returned from a prospecting trip to Scurry county. He says he was very much pleased with the country, and that crops are better there than here this year, cotton making a bale to the acre on the up-also extensively grown. Mr. Vandiver expects to go to that country next spring, but says he will retain his interests in Brazos county.

Another letter from Col. Rason of Staunton, Va., to a friend in Bryan, regarding the death of Col. Baldwin, says:
"The attention shown my poor uncle by the good people of Bryan will be long remembered, and it was gratifying to his friends in Virginia to find that his death elicited honor so appropriate to his distinguished military career.
There was much that was romantic and dramatic in his life—stranger than fiction. His forefather of the crusades was not a knightlier soul than he. I really never knew the man until we happened to be in the same room wounded, and he in the delirium of fever, disclosing mind and heart."

TENNESSEE'S PARDNER.

Those who fail to see "Tennessee's Pardner" at the opera house Wednesday, October 19, will miss one of the best comedy-dramas that has ever come to Bryan. The play suggests, rather than closely follows Bret Harte's exquisite story of the mining camp. It is bright and clean, not overdrawn and has a distinct vein of comedy which brightens it wonderfully. The characters are well balanced and each actor, in his or her own way, appeals specially to the audience.
"Tennessee's Pardner" has been a pronounced success for the past two seasons under Arthur C. Ais-ton's management, and he has retained the principal members of the company who have been identified with the play for this, the third consecutive successful tour.
